Mr T Nicholls MP,
Member for Clayfield
PO Box 281
CLAYFIELD QLD 4011

Dear Mr Nicholls,

Attached is an infringement notice (Speed Camera or Traffic Camera offence) received by Ministerial Services for the vehicle that was allocated to you at the time of the infringement. Your former chauffeur Mr Randall Moes has indicated that he was not the driver at the time of the infringement.

I am seeking your assistance in finalising this matter. If you are aware of the identity of the driver at the time of the infringement, could you please:

- Ensure that the Statutory Declaration on the back of the notice is completed and witnessed by a Justice of the Peace.
- Ensure that the original notice is returned to the Inspector, Traffic Camera Office, Queensland Police Service, GPO Box 1440, Brisbane 4001. A new infringement notice will then be issued in the nominated driver's name. No payment should be made until the new notice is received.

If you require any further information please contact me on Ph. 3003 9067.

Yours sincerely,

Ian Street

Dear Sir/Madam

I refer to Infringement Notice Number 2023652323.

In relation to the statutory declaration received, it is noted that your department has attempted to nominate another person as being the driver of the vehicle at the time of the alleged offence. In legislation, strict timeframes exist which determine when statutory declarations nominating other drivers can be received. Unfortunately your department is outside these timeframes and cannot nominate another driver.

The driver may accept liability for the alleged offence by fully completing the statutory declaration enclosed and returning it to this office. The statutory declaration must be completed by the driver/person in charge; enclosed is a sample to assist the driver/person in charge to complete their statutory declaration.

Upon receipt of a correctly completed statutory declaration, the notice issued to your department will be withdrawn and a new infringement notice issued.

Until Queensland Police Service (QPS) receives a correctly completed statutory declaration by the driver/person in charge the notice will remain issued in your department's name, in which case your options lie with the State Penalties Enforcement Registry 1300 365 635.

Yours sincerely

OFFICER IN CHARGE

Dear Mr Nicholls,

Attached is an infringement notice (Speed Camera or Traffic Camera offence) received by Ministerial Services for the vehicle that was allocated to you at the time of the infringement. Your former chauffeur Mr Randall Moes has indicated that he was not the driver at the time of the infringement.

I am seeking your assistance in finalising this matter. If you are aware of the identity of the driver at the time of the infringement, could you please:

- Ensure that the Statutory Declaration on the back of the notice is completed and witnessed by a Justice of the Peace.
- Ensure that the original notice is returned to the Inspector, Traffic Camera Office, Queensland Police Service, GPO Box 1440, Brisbane. A new infringement notice will then be issued in the nominated driver's name. No payment should be made until the new notice is received.

If you require any further information please contact me on Ph. 3003 9067.

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What if I was not driving the vehicle at the time of the offence?

If the vehicle is registered in your name, the notice will automatically be sent to you. If you were not driving the vehicle at the time of the offence, you can nominate the person who was driving by completing the Statutory Declaration on page two.

2. vehicle is registered in two names. Why was I sent the infringement notice when I wasn't driving the vehicle?

When the vehicle is in joint ownership, the infringement notice is issued to the person whose name appears first on the registration particulars. If you were not driving the vehicle at the time of the offence, you can transfer liability for the offence to the other person by completing the Statutory Declaration on page two.

3. What if I have sold the vehicle to someone else and I have received the infringement notice?

If you sold the vehicle before the offence was committed, you need to provide information regarding the transfer of ownership. An infringement notice is issued to the last registered owner of the vehicle involved, as recorded by the Department of Transport and Main Roads. To transfer liability for the alleged offence to the person to whom you sold the vehicle, you are required to complete in full the Statutory Declaration on page two.

You must provide:

- The date of sale of the vehicle; and
- The full name and address of the person to whom you sold the vehicle.

4. I have never received an infringement notice before. Can show some leniency?

No. Speeding or failing to stop at a red light is considered to be a life endangering offence. There is no provision in Queensland for the issuing of a warning for camera detected offences on the basis of prior driving record.

5. There is more than one vehicle in the photograph. How do you know it was my vehicle that was detected?

A number of different Photographic Detection Devices (listed in the Traffic Regulation 1962) are used by the Queensland Police Service to collect information and images. Each of these device types may present the image and associated infringement information in differing formats. Information may appear on the Infringement Notice as part of the image or elsewhere but associated with the image.

Depending on the Photographic Detection Device used, information such as the date, time, location code, speed, the lane in which the vehicle was detected, or a target vehicle identifier may be provided to indicate the vehicle detected.

Each image is carefully examined by trained adjudicators to determine whether an Infringement Notice will be issued. Adjudicators can enlarge images and access other device information to ensure accurate identification of the offending vehicle.

6. Why is my company fine so high?

The penalty applicable to a corporation is five times that of an individual. This encourages corporations to nominate a driver for the offence and those drivers who are not obeying the speed limit are held accountable for their actions. To nominate a driver, the corporation must complete the Statutory Declaration on page two. Upon receipt of a valid Statutory Declaration, the original ticket will be waived and another one will be issued to the driver at a penalty for an individual.

7. Can I pay the fine off in instalments?

The State Penalties Enforcement Act 1999 states that payment by instalments may only be accepted if the penalty associated with the notice is at least $200.00.

If the penalty is $200.00 or more, you may elect for a Voluntary Instalment Plan. You must send a payment of at least $60.00 with your Infringement Notice number to the Department of Transport and Main Roads, PO Box 525, Fortitude Valley Qld 4006. An Instalment Payment Notice will be forwarded to you by SPER for payment of the balance. If you default in paying the balance to SPER, you will incur a SPER registration fee.

For more information please visit www.sper.qld.gov.au.

8. What if the speed camera vehicle was positioned on a downhill slope?

Speed camera sites are selected primarily on road crash data, Queensland Police Service policy acknowledges that in some cases, it may be necessary to perform speed detection enforcement on downhill grades where there is documented history of crashes.

9. Why did I receive a red light infringement notice when I drove over the white line and did not proceed through the intersection?

The Transport Operations (Road Use Management) Act 1995 states that the driver of a vehicle approaching a red traffic signal must stop the vehicle as near as practical to, but before reaching the stop line. Once your vehicle has travelled over the solid white stop line, you have committed an offence.

10. Where do I find more information about different types of speed cameras and red light cameras?

Further information about mobile speed cameras, fixed speed camera locations, point-to-point camera systems, and combined red light and speed cameras can be found at www.tmr.qld.gov.au/cameras.

11. What does the government do with money collected from speed camera and red light camera detected offences?

Speed cameras and red light cameras are used for road safety purposes in Queensland. Driving at any speed above the posted speed limit is illegal and dangerous and it is for this reason that enforcement is undertaken, not for the purpose of raising revenue.

The distribution of revenue from camera detected offences, that is speed camera and red light camera detected offences, is restricted by the Transport Operations (Road Use Management) Act 1995 which requires that all money collected for penalties imposed for camera detected offences, in excess of the administrative costs, must be used for specific road safety purposes.

Most other states in Australia do not have any policy or legislative requirements in place for the distribution of camera detected offence revenue or any other traffic fines.

Privacy Statement – The department is collecting the information on this form under the Transport Operations (Road Use Management) Act 1995 so that the identity of the person who is alleged to have committed the offence may be established. The department usually gives some or all of this information to the Queensland Treasury and Trade, Queensland Police Service and interstate driver licensing authorities. Your personal information will not be disclosed to any other third party without your consent unless required to do so by law.

Important points to remember when completing a Statutory Declaration

- The document must be duly completed in black or blue pen in order to be valid.
- When completing the 'Particulars of Person' section of the declaration, please include the full name, full residential address, date of birth and licence number (if known) of the driver or responsible operator. This will assist in the accurate processing of your declaration.
- The Official witness must include their printed name, qualification, stamp or number in the space provided (A list of your local Justices of the Peace and Commissioner for Declarations may be located by contacting phone: 1300 301 147 or by visiting www.qld.gov.au/law/legal-mediation-and-justice-of-the-peace/justice-of-the-peace/).
- When completing a statutory declaration outside Australia, the witness should be a person who is authorised to witness legal documents in the country the declaration is completed.
- PO Box (Post Office Box) addresses are not acceptable. If you require a new Infringement Notice to be mailed to a Post Office Box address, you should request this in writing.
- If your vehicle was sold or stolen (vehicle/plates) prior to the offence time and date, tick the checkbox and complete the details in the section provided. If stolen, enter the police station or establishment and the date you reported the offence. For vehicles stolen in Queensland, please include the 'QP' number that was issued to you when you made your report.
- In accordance with 'The Duties of Justices of the Peace (Qualified)', all alterations, spaces or omissions (including white out), are required to be initialled by both the witness and the signatory in order to be valid.
- It is not permissible for some other person to complete or sign the statutory declaration on behalf of the person named on the infringement notice unless the person in charge of the vehicle at the time of the alleged offence is nominating themselves.
- It is not permissible to nominate a business as it is not a legal entity. The responsible operator of the business (company name including ACN or the individual's name) must be included on the statutory declaration in order for it to be processed.
- The declaration must be returned within 28 days of the issue date via facsimile (07 3099 6138) or the postal address listed below.
- For more information on how to complete your statutory declaration, please visit the Queensland Police Service webpage www.police.qld.gov.au/programs/roadsafety/infringement/statdec.htm

Dear Sir/Madam

I refer to Infringement Notice Number 2031621141.

In relation to the statutory declaration received, it is noted that you have attempted to nominate another person as being the driver of the vehicle at the time of the alleged offence. In legislation, strict timeframes exist which determine when statutory declarations nominating other drivers can be received. Unfortunately you are outside these timeframes and cannot nominate another driver.

The driver may accept liability for the alleged offence by fully completing the statutory declaration enclosed and returning it to this office. The statutory declaration must be completed by the driver/person in charge; enclosed is a sample to assist the driver/person in charge to complete their statutory declaration.

Upon receipt of a correctly completed statutory declaration, the notice issued to you will be withdrawn and a new infringement notice issued.

Until Queensland Police Service (QPS) receives a correctly completed statutory declaration by the driver/person in charge the notice will remain issued in your name, in which case your options lie with the State Penalties Enforcement Registry 1300 365 635.

Yours sincerely

Dear Sir/Madam,

Thank you for your correspondence received at the State Penalties Enforcement Registry (SPER) on 29 February 2016 regarding infringement notice number: 2031621141.

SPER is the Queensland Government agency charged with the collection and enforcement of unpaid infringement notices and court ordered fines in Queensland under the State Penalties Enforcement Act 1999. The Registrar of SPER has no authority to waive, withdraw, transfer liability or arbitrate disputes of any matter referred for enforcement as SPER is not the agency which issued the original notice.

Please find enclosed your original Statutory Declaration regarding the above infringement. This has been returned to you as SPER does not issue infringements, therefore they do not process Statutory Declarations. To enquire about your options regarding the transfer of liability for this fine, I recommend that you deal directly with the issuing agencies.

Traffic Camera Office

GPO Box 1440, Brisbane QLD 4001

Phone: 1300 360 610

Website: <http://www.police.qld.gov.au/programs/roadSafety/infringement.htm>

A deferral of enforcement action has been placed on this fine until 30 March 2016 to allow additional time for you to contact the above agency. After this time enforcement action may continue as penalties registered with SPER remain enforceable unless they are waived, recalled or withdrawn by the issuing agencies.

Should you have any further questions, please first refer to the SPER website (www.sper.qld.gov.au). If you are unable to find the information you require, please contact us directly on 1300 365 635 (Monday to Friday, between 8:00am and 6:00pm).

Yours sincerely,

Registrar, SPER

DO NOT IGNORE – ENFORCEMENT ACTION ABOUT TO COMMENCE

SPER records show you have outstanding fines/orders totalling $1,012.90. All attempts by this office to contact you to finalise these fines/orders have failed.

As this amount remains unpaid, I am considering issuing a Fine Collection Notice to order your bank or your employer to recover the outstanding amount. Under Section 75 of the State Penalties Enforcement Act 1999, a bank or employer is required to re-direct funds from your bank account or wage to SPER. The issue of a Fine Collection Notice will result in fees being added to your outstanding amount.

To avoid SPER taking further enforcement action, you must:

- pay the amount stated in full; or
- enter into compliance immediately by applying for an instalment plan using BPOINT via the SPER Website (www.sper.qld.gov.au) or download and complete an Instalment Plan Application or Direct Debit Request form and send to SPER; or
- contact the Queensland Government Contact Centre on 1300 365 635 between 8am - 6pm Monday to Friday for assistance.

If the amount remains unpaid, SPER will also continue to investigate other assets you currently own or may acquire in the future. Further information about payment options is contained on the back of this letter.

You can also set up a standard instalment plan yourself via the SPER Website using the BPOINT details provided below. Alternatively, SPER can arrange deductions from your Centrelink payments on a fortnightly basis.

What next?

If you choose to pay by instalments by completing your application online using BPOINT, a notice will be sent to you confirming the payments you have agreed to make.

Your instalment amount will be calculated according to the total amount you have outstanding. Frequently Asked Questions

1. What if I was not driving the vehicle at the time of the offence?

If the vehicle is registered in your name, the notice will automatically be sent to you. If you were not driving the vehicle at the time of the offence, you can nominate the person who was driving by completing the Statutory Declaration on page two.

2. "My vehicle is registered in two names. Why was I sent the infringement notice when I wasn't driving the vehicle?"

When the vehicle is in joint ownership, the infringement notice is issued to the person whose name appears first on the registration particulars. If you were not driving the vehicle at the time of the offence, you can transfer liability for the offence to the other person by completing the Statutory Declaration on page two.

3. What if I have sold the vehicle to someone else and I have received the infringement notice?

If you sold the vehicle before the offence was committed, you need to provide information regarding the transfer of ownership. An infringement notice is issued to the last registered owner of the vehicle involved, as recorded by the Department of Transport and Main Roads. To transfer liability for the alleged offence to the person to whom you sold the vehicle, you are required to complete in full the Statutory Declaration on page two.

You must provide:

- The date of sale of the vehicle; and
- The full name and address of the person to whom you sold the vehicle.

4. I have never received an infringement notice before. Can you show some leniency?

Speeding or failing to stop at a red light is considered to be a life endangering offence. There is no provision in Queensland for the issuing of a warning for camera detected offences on the basis of prior driving record.

5. There is more than one vehicle in the photograph. How do you know it was my vehicle that was detected?

A number of different Photographic Detection Devices (listed in the Traffic Regulation 1962) are used by the Queensland Police Service to collect information and images. Each of these device types may present the image and associated infringement information in differing formats. Information may appear on the Infringement Notice as part of the image or elsewhere but associated with the image.

Depending on the Photographic Detection Device used, information such as the date, time, location code, speed, the lane in which the vehicle was detected, or a target vehicle identifier may be provided to indicate the vehicle detected.

Each image is carefully examined by trained adjudicators to determine whether an Infringement Notice will be issued. Adjudicators can enlarge images and access other device information to ensure accurate identification of the offending vehicle.

6. Why is my company fine so high?

The penalty applicable to a corporation is five times that of an individual. This encourages corporations to nominate a driver for the offence and those drivers who are not obeying the speed limit are held accountable for their actions. To nominate a driver, the corporation must complete the Statutory Declaration on page two. Upon receipt of a valid Statutory Declaration, the original ticket will be waived and another one will be issued to the driver at a penalty for an individual.

7. Can I pay the fine off in instalments?

The State Penalties Enforcement Act 1999 states that payment by instalments may only be accepted if the penalty associated with the notice is at least $200.00.

If the penalty is $200.00 or more, you may elect for a Voluntary Instalment Plan. You must send a payment of at least $60.00 with your Infringement Notice number to the Department of Transport and Main Roads, PO Box 525, Fortitude Valley Qld 4006. An Instalment Payment Notice will be forwarded to you by SPER for payment of the balance. If you default in paying the balance to SPER, you will incur a SPER registration fee.

For more information please visit www.sper.qld.gov.au.

8. What if the speed camera vehicle was positioned on a downhill slope?

Speed camera sites are selected primarily on road crash data, Queensland Police Service policy acknowledges that in some cases, it may be necessary to perform speed detection enforcement on downhill grades where there is documented history of crashes.

9. Why did I receive a red light infringement notice when I drove over the white line and did not proceed through the intersection?

The Transport Operations (Road Use Management) Act 1995 states that the driver of a vehicle approaching a red traffic signal must stop the vehicle as near as practical to, but before reaching the stop line. Once your vehicle has travelled over the solid white stop line, you have committed an offence.

10. Where do I find more information about different types of speed cameras and red light cameras?

Further information about mobile speed cameras, fixed speed camera locations, point-to-point camera systems, and combined red light and speed cameras can be found at www.tmr.qld.gov.au/cameras.

11. What does the government do with money collected from speed camera and red light camera detected offences?

Speed cameras and red light cameras are used for road safety purposes in Queensland. Driving at any speed above the posted speed limit is illegal and dangerous and it is for this reason that enforcement is undertaken, not for the purpose of raising revenue.

The distribution of revenue from camera detected offences, that is speed camera and red light camera detected offences, is restricted by the Transport Operations (Road Use Management) Act 1995 which requires that all money collected for penalties imposed for camera detected offences, in excess of the administrative costs, must be used for specific road safety purposes.

Most other states in Australia do not have any policy or legislative requirements in place for the distribution of camera detected offence revenue or any other traffic fines.

Privacy Statement – The department is collecting the information on this form under the Transport Operations (Road Use Management) Act 1995 so that the identity of the person who is alleged to have committed the offence may be established. Your personal information will not be disclosed to any other third party without your consent unless required to do so by law.

If stolen, enter the police station or establishment and the date you reported the offence. - In accordance with 'The Duties of Justices of the Peace (Qualified)', all alterations, spaces or omissions (including white out), are required to be initialled by both the witness and the signatory in order to be valid.
- It is not permissible for some other person to complete or sign the statutory declaration on behalf of the person named on the infringement notice unless the person in charge of the vehicle at the time of the alleged offence is nominating themselves.
- It is not permissible to nominate a business as it is not a legal entity. The responsible operator of the business (company name including ACN or the individual's name) must be included on the statutory declaration in order for it to be processed.
- The declaration must be returned within 28 days of the issue date via facsimile (07 3099 6138) or the postal address listed below.
